CONTEST CLOSES BOY SCOUT CAMP

IN NEIGHBORHOOD OF 800 NODAWAY COUNTY PEOPLE ATTEND EVENT

MARYVILLE HAS 7 FIRSTS

Local Patrol Troop Under Command of Paul Miller, Winner in Feature Contest; Camp a Success.

In the neighborhood of 800 people from throughout Nodaway County were at the Boy Scout camp yesterday afternoon to witness the final contest of the Scouts prior to breaking camp this morning.

The contest, under the direction of Commandant M. A. Peery was a demonstration of the things that the lads have learned in Scouteraft, and the week of training which they have had at the camp made the competition keen in the various events on the program.

To the Maryville troop went the lion's share of the honors, the local boys winning a total of seven firsts.

Beaver patrol of Maryville, in command of Paul Miller, won the first prize of $20 over a field of three other patrol companies. The event was one of the features of the contest, being a demonstration of the team work of each troop.

The fire building contests attracted much attention among the large crowd of spectators, and some unique examples were given by the boys in these events. In the tenderfoot class in which the boys were allowed only two matches with which to start a fire, Holt of Maryville was first, with Andrews of Hopkins, second. In the contest for building fire without the use of matches, Crowford of Ravenwood, irst and T. Godsey, of Maryville, second.

In addition to the scouteraft events, a large number of swimming and other athletic contests helped to make the affair an interesting one to the spectators.

Following the contest last night the boys began preparation for breaking camp this morning. The troop from Burlington Junction, through permission from the Commandant returned to their homes last night, while the remainder of the lads left via automobile this morning.

According to officials at the camp, the outing has been one of the most successful that has ever been held by the organization.

COMETS LOSE SECOND GAME OF SEASON TO ST. JOE, 12-1

Outclassed by Downstate Club, Local Boys Put up Game Fight; Home Run by Tobin Saves Shut-out

The Maryville Comets went down to defeat before the St. Joseph Stockyards team the second time this season yesterday afternoon by a score of 12 to 1 at the Fair grounds park.

A good sized crowd was on hand to witness the contest and although the home boys were outclassed by the Stockyards nine they put up a game fight and by intermittent flashes of speed kept the score from mounting to a much higher figure.

In the opening half of the first inning, St. Joseph managed to garner three hits in a row off Black's delivery, which developed into three runs. With this lead the St. Joe players took the initiative side of the contest and proceeded to work the hit and run to advantage throughout the rest of the game.

In the fifth inning Tobin saved his club from a shut-out when he poled out a home run to center field. The ball went over the fielder's head and became lost in the tall grass. The grass proved a disadvantage to both teams, the Stockmen getting two home runs off Black via the lost ball route.

In the seventh inning, Bert Monk of Burlington Junction, went to the mound for Maryville. He pitched fair ball for two innings, but in the final frame a series of hits and an epidemic of bobles by the Comets allowed 5 runs to cross the plate.

Shanre, former Western Leaguer, on the mound for St. Joe, pitched an air tight game of ball and was backed up by excellent fielding by his team mates.

One of the marring features of the game yesterday was the lack of a capable umpire. The umps who was scheduled to officiate, failed to show up and one of the fans was pressed into service.

Manager Black announced today that an experienced umpire has been employed to hold the indicator at the remaining games on the home lot.

The line-up:

Comets—Phillips, 1b H. Buhler, 2b; C. Black, lf; Monk, cf; H. Black, p; D. Collins, rf; Conley, ss; P. Buhler, 3b. Tobin, c.

Stockyards—Owens, cf; Palfreyman, 2b; Tracy, 1b; Speaker, rf; Scott, 3b; Lauder, lf; Poolman, ss; Cox, c; Shaner, p.

BARNARD PLANNING FOR QUARTER OF CENTURY PICNIC

Rev. Snodgrass and Judge Dawson of This City on Program Burris Jenkins to Deliver Address.

Barnard's quarter of century picnic August 7, 8 and 9, bids fair to be by far the best and biggest ever seen in the history of the town. More money has been donated and more interest has been shown so far than in the knowledge of the older men who have had to do with the picnic in years past.

An exceedingly fine list of speakers has been secured. On Thursday Rev. Snodgrass of Maryville will make an address and has the reputation for being a popular out of doors speaker. On Friday Dr. Burris Jenkins will make an address on that most vital subject "The League of Nations." Dr. Jenkins is peculiarly fitted to explain the league, having been a war correspondent and having studied the problems attending the war throughout the several years of fighting. Judge Dawson of Maryville will also be here Friday and make a short talk.

On Saturday L. C. Gabbert, General "Y," will be the principal speaker, Gabbert is a lawyer of no little ability as an orator and his personal experiences on the front at a Y man will make an exceedingly interesting theme for an address. His honorary title as General "Y" was earned by his care for the boys over there and is deserved, since it was given him by the boys themselves.—Barnard Bulletin.

ASSESSORS TAKE A NEW FARM CENSUS

THIS WORK IN ADDITION TO THEIR REGULAR DUTIES

HAVE EVERYTHING LISTED

The Property to Be Assessed on the Actual Value Basis—A Uniform Assessment Rate in Force.

The township assessors of Nodaway county are now beginning their work of assessing the property, real and personal, in their respective townships over the county. In addition to making assessments the assessors will take a farm census. The farm census is taken under the direction and for the Missouri Co-operative Crop Reporting Service, an organization supported by the Missouri State Board of Agriculture and The United States Department of Agriculture.

The assessment this year will be made on the actual value basis. The uniform rates adopted by the assessors were published in an issue of this paper some days ago.

The assessors ask that all farmers inform themselves as to the acreage of their crops, the number of their stock and other matters so that when the assessor comes he will not have to wait while all this information is gathered.

The farm census will include the following information: The number of registered live stock, the total acreage in the farm, the acres in corn, spring wheat, winter wheat, oats, rye, barley, tobacco, cow peas, soy beans, sorghum for syrup, forage sorghum, clover and timothy, alfalfa, prairie hay, cotton, other kinds of crops, pasture, the number of bearing apple trees, the number of hives of bees, the number of cows (2 years old and over), and the number of poultry (all kinds), and the number of silos.

Farmers who live on a farm and have other land rented and are farming that land must include the same information about the rented land as is asked for the land where their home is.

CHICAGO SCENE OF RACE CLASH

TWO MORE NEGROES SHOT AND SERIOUSLY INJURED

TO POLICE BLACK BELT

Petty Quarrels on Beach Thought to Be Cause of Trouble Casualties Negro and White Man Dead

Chicago, July 28.—Two more negroes were shot and seriously wounded today in a race riot that for fourteen hours made a battle field of the negro district on the south side. As a result, additional police have been thrown about the negro district. Thre casualties of the rioting thus far are one negro dead, one white man reported killed, and a score injured.

Although ill feeling between whites and blacks on the South Side has extended over a period of months, emphasized by bomb explosions, some shooting and numerous fights, today's riots seem to have had their start in petty quarrels at the beach. Although several reasons were assigned, the police were unable to determine what actually started the disorders.

Reports that negroes wandered across the dividing line to the white section of the beach and that whites amused themselves by throwing small stones at some of the negro bathers, particularly on a raft, appeared the most plausible cause. Soon after the fighting started a negro fled pursued by a number of whites.

A policeman rushed out of a house and joined the pursuit. The negro took shelter behind a building and began shooting at the policeman who returned the fire. The negro then surrendered In the fight one negro was probably fatally wounded in the abdomen.

The fighting soon had Twenty-ninth Street packed with whites and blacks, the latter predominating. More fighting occurred and a few more shots were fired as some of the negroes fled and as patrol wagon after patrol wagon appeared on the scene with its loads of bluecoats.

During the fighting, rocks, bricks and other missiles were hurled both at the beach and at various points along Twenty ninth Street. Along State street, particularly near Thirty-first, the very heart of the black belt and at Thirty-fifth street, white men were frequently attacked and beaten, the police said.

At the beach while missiles were flying the negro on a raft was reported to have been struck with a rock and hurled into the lake. Later the body of a negro was taken from the water.

A white man, swimmer, also was reported hit and drowned. Several hours later only one negro's body had been recovered although search of the lake was continuing.

With the police stations emptied of reserves and scores of others rushed from north and west side stations, Acting Chief of Police Alcock ordered every available policeman on duty to prevent further outbreaks.

GERMAN RED CROSS FLAG AT MISSOURI STATE FAIR

Sedalia, Mo., July 28.—A German Red Cross flag, captured at Drillencourt on the right edge of the Argonne Forest, will fly over the free emergency hospital at the Missouri State Fair in Sedalia, August 9-16. The flag was captured by Doctor Norman A. Schwald, captain, U. S. Medical Corps on September 26, 1918. Dr. Schwald was attached to the 131st infantry of the 33rd Division. At the engagement at Drillencourt, his unit fought against the Prussian Guards.

The flag they captured was flying over a German hospital which they found to be well stocked with medicine and drugs, and particularly with eatables. Chickens, Belgian hares, and pigeons were found, evidently awaiting officers' mess. The quarters were large enough for twenty officers and knives and guns were found with every bed. Doctor Schwald, himself, took down the Red Cross flag, which he later presented to his brother-in-law, E. G. Bylander, secretary of the Missouri State Fair.

If hot weather saps your energy and you can't work well, it is a sign that your system is full of bilious impurities. You will be sick if you do not do something. Take Prickly Ash Bitters, the remedy for men; it cleanses the blood, liver and bowels, restores strength, vim and cheerful spirits. Price $1.25 per bottle.—Maryville Drug Co., Special Agents.—Adv.

Start Bluegrass Pasture This Fall.

"How may a blue grass pasture be started on fertile, tillable land?" This question is often asked of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture Perhaps the best reply will be found in Extension Circular 66, by W. C. Etheridge. He says:

Sow timothy and bluegrass with wheat in the fall, adding clover the following spring. After two years of clover and timothy for hay, the land is pastured and the bluegrass fills the sod as the timothy disappears. The acre rates of seeding should be about 8 to 10 pounds of timothy, 6 pounds of bluegrass, and 6 to 8 pounds of clover, using highgrade seed. If it should be desired to turn unusually clean, fertile land into pasture, a sod could be made somewhat more quickly by omitting the wheat and sowing the grasses and clover without a nurse crop. In this case 10 to 15 pounds of bluegrass seed would be sown to the acre.

On land too dry and poor for bluegrass, but which may produce a fair growth of other grasses, a mixture of 5 pounds of redtop, 10 pounds of orchard grass and 4 pounds of alsike clover is recommended. If a cheaper mixture is wanted the redtop seed may be omitted.

On all types of untillable land the spring seeding of pastures almost invariably gives better results than fall seeding, unless the soil is so weedy that fall seeding is necessary to give the grass an early start in competition with the spring growth of weeds. No preparation of the soil is necessary, other than burning the leaves or other dead plant matter; but after the seed is sown it should by all means be harrowed or brushed into the soil, if the land is clear enough to allow the passage of the implement. It must be understood, however, that a pasture seeded in the spring will yield but little return the first season, unless the soil is very fertile and weather conditions are favorable. If it is necessary to begin grazing by early summer the grass should be seeded with rye or oats, which will furnish considerable pasturage during May or June.

The quicker growing grasses, timothy, rye grass, redtop and orchard grass, are seeded with bluegrass to furnish pasturage while the slow growing blue grass is developing. It is also wise to provide against a possible failure of the bluegrass by including other grasses which might prove themselves better adapted to the soil. Two to five years are required for bluegrass to fill the sod, depending upon the fertility of the land and the persistence of the other grasses in the mixture. Under favorable natural conditions there seems to be no limit to its time endurance. But sometimes without any permanent change in natural conditions, the pasture becomes foul with weeds and brush and is thereby made much less productive.

FEW PUPIL NURSES NOW.

And Opportunity for Young Women Are Greater Than They Ever Have Been.

Columbia, Mo., July 28.—Just at a time when opportunities for trained nurses are greater than they ever ever have been, fewer young women seem to be preparing for that profession. The number of pupil nurses pledged to enter the School for Nurses at the University of Missouri next September is smaller than it has been in years. Conditions are similar in the other large nursing schools of the country; the number of probationers is far below the average.

"It is hard to understand why more girls are not preparing to become trained nurses," said a trained nurse of long experience here recently. "The opportunities for nurses are unusually good in public and social service. A nurse who obtains her training under proper hospital supervision and environment receives a cultural training which will be of great value to her whether she intends to make nursing her life work or not. No education better fits a young woman to earn a livelihood or to enter upon the duties of wifehood than a course in a nurses' training school. No course can be pursued and completed at so little cost. And a graduate nurse receives $35 a week as soon as she has finished her training."

The School for Nurses at the University of Missouri is conducted in connection with Parker Memorial Hospital. Pupil nurses receive their training in the hospital and laboratories of the University. The course covers a period of three years, and familiarizes the pupils with the theory and practice of nursing.

The school is affiliated with the City Hospital Training School for Nurses of St. Louis. This association makes it possible for pupil nurses to pursue such studies as are possible only in the largest hospitals. Each nurse spends three months of her senior year in the St. Louis hospital. Application blanks for entrance to the School for Nurses will be sent on application to the University of Missouri.

MRS. E. F' HARDY GAINS TWENTY-FIVE POUNDS

Texas Farmer Praises Tanlac For Overcoming Wife's Trouble.

"Well, sir, my wife only weighed ninety pounds when she commenced taking Tanlac, and now she tips the scales at one hundred and sixteen, which gives her a gain of twenty-six pounds, and any medicine that will do that kind of work is worth recommending to anybody," said E. F. Hardy, a well known farmer who lives near Terrell, Texas, the other day.

"For three long years," continued Mr. Hardy, "my wife suffered something awful, and although she was under the best treatment all the time, her condition seemed to get worse instead of better. She suffered almost continually with a severe pain in the small of her back which was caused from the awful condition of her kidneys. Very often she would have pains in her sides, too, and was so nervous all the time that she never got a good night's sleep. She got so thin and weak, and so generally run down that she was not able to do any house work at all.

"We had been reading a good deal in the papers about this Tanlac, and I decided to buy one bottle and see if it would make any change in her condition. Well, the first bottle helped her so much that I got another, and it just seemed that the more Tanlac she took, the faster she improved, and now since taking four bottles she is enjoying as good health as she ever did in her life. Her stomach seems to be in perfect condition, and everything she eats agrees with her all right. The pain has left her back and she never has the slightest sign of that kidney trouble. She has a fine appetite, and it is simply wonderful the way she has gained in weight and strength. She does all her housework now, and it doesn't hurt her at all. Yes, sir, Tanlac is all right, and I am more than glad to let others know of the great good it has done my wife."

"Tanlac is sold in Maryville by Koch Pharmacy, in Conception Junction by A. M. Colly, in Pickering by H. M. Lincoln, in Burlington Junction by Carter Pharmacy, in Barnard by Bear Drug Co., in Elmo by King Drug Co., in Clearmont by Dr. W. H. Wiley, in Ravenwood by C. A. Shunk, in Arkoe by Rufus R. SHANTUNG SETTLEMENT OF VITAL CONCERN TO U. S.

Former Presbyterian Missioary Tells of the Situation in China.

St. Louis, July 28.—The vital condition of the United States in the settlement of the Shantung controveracy is indicated by Emma E. Fleming, M. D., of Palo Pinto, Benton County, Mo., pioneer Presbyterian medical missionry to Shantung, in a report made public by the Presbyterian Foreign Missions at Presbyterian Headquarters in New York.

Dr. Fleming is a native of Commerce, Michigan, and a sister of Dr. A. W. Fleming of this city, Palo Pinto was her home when she was appointed by the Presbyterian Board to the post where she served for 21 years.

According to Dr. Fleming's report, America's share in the development of Shantung began soon after Germany's occupation and has continued ever since, until, as she says, "Shantung is the largest Presbyterian mission field," While other bodies are in certain centers associated, noon is so large or wilespread as the Presbyterian church, and the magnitude of our responsibility there sometimes overwhelms us, she says

"The Presbyterian church is responsible for all of South Shantung, sharing that field only with the Catholics," Dr. Fleming continued.

Dr. Fleming says that Shantung is "one of the strategic battle fields of the big, undeveloped republic of China and history is still in the making within her borders. Conservative in spirit and non-combative in habit, whichever way the Pekin breeze blows she voors. Shantung has furnished the beggars of China, the Manchurian emigrants and since 1915 the labor battalions of France

Dr. Fleming became a Presbyterian medical missionary with a base of operations at Ichowfu in 1898, the year following Germany's seisure of Shantung's port of Tsingten. She is still in active service there. She found the country centuries behind America, and she and her fellow-Americans have had a large share in the amazing development of the peninsular.

Her's was the first bicycle ever seen by the natives, and mounted on her machine she was pursued by crowds manifesting fear as well as curiosity and chased by hordes of dogs. Today the bicycle penetrates to the most remote hamlets.

Christianity has gained great headway in Shantung, and with it American prestige and commerce, according to the report. Being the home and burial place of Confucius and the site of the sacred mountain of Tai Shan it was at first a discouraging field. The first schools and religious services were in crowded native mud buildings. American enterprises overcame Chinese conservation, and with the introduction of mail service and railroads educational senters were established, medical and surgical treatment were extended, and churches followed the spread of hospital work. Modern improvements in building and home making were demonstrated with good effect, where formerly two story homes were forbidden. In the large cities more modern modes of transportation have led to the leveling of the streets, but in the rural districts motorcycles still have to follow the wheelbarrow tracks across the field.

Dr. Fleming gives credit to the Government schools which have been developed along with the Presbyterian missionary enterprises. "In spite of their defects," she says "they are one of the biggest improvements in the country. And our own big union educational plant has become established in a splendid location at Tsinanfu, the provincial capital.

"When I came in '98 there were no girls' schools in Shantung outside of mission premises. Now all the perfectural cities have high schools. Grammar schools and primary schools are scattered throughout the province and many of the teachers are Christians. Unfortunately they have not required unbinding of the feet, although the higher schools at Tsinanfu do demand it. While we have our Christian schools of all grades, yet we rejoice in the Government schools, especially as they have the Sabbath recreation day and pupils have the privileges of attending church and Sunday School.

"There are kindergardens in various centers and a training schools in Tsinanfu. We have just started one in Ichowfu, with 40 little tots under a native teacher. Some of these babes walk almost two miles.

"Women's Bible Institutions are in most of the stations. These also have classes for young women who have had no chance and are too old for the primary schools. These women have ambition to read and we hope they may become better wives and home keepers.

"Our fine Wallace Faris Memorial Church is another contrast to the crowded native mud buildings in which we worshiped when I first came. The second medical class of young men began to study medicine in Ichofu in 1902, spending one year here under Dr. Johnson; the next year in Tsinanfu under Dr. Neal; and the following year under another instructor, certainly a decided contrast to our Union Medical School in Tsinanfu which today turns out rela physicians. My first dispensary, which had been opened six years before Dr. Anna Larson, was a low close native building and when it was crowded with the great unwashed man, it was hard to work in safety. What was an opening wedge in many places has become a necessary adjunct, and the hospital in Shantung is a might evangelistic agency.

"The modern high school is quite a contrast to the humble room in 1898 at Ichowfu, where an old gentlement had boys and girls yelling their lessons at the tops of their voices.

"There is a spirit of independence among the Christians and several self-supporting union churches have been organized. These may not always be best or wisely managed, but they show the tread of the New Era; China for the Chinese under Chinese leadership.

"Two new stations, Yihsein and Tanghsion, have been opened since 1900, and both have become important centers. Yihsien, with the Industrial school and Tonghsein, with Matser Memorial Bible and Training School, preparing evengelistic and teachers for South Shantung. We can praise the Lord for what has been accomplished and press forward for a new era in China."

TO TEAR DOWN STATE ARMORY AT JEFF CITY

Jefferson City, July 28.—Within thirty days another old landmark will have passed away—the State Armonry. The old stone building which has been the headquarters for the adjutant general's office for fifty-six years, has been sold to the Pope Construction Company for $225.

Besides wrecking the old building and clearing away the debris the Pope Construction Company also has bound itself to remove the old warehouse. When this is done the Capitol Park will be clear.

There were two other bidders besides the Pope Construction Company, but the Capitol Commission, which had the matter in charge, awarded the contract to the firm which could do the work in the least possible time. Failure to remove the building in the time specified will be penalized.

CONTEST CLOSES BOY SCOUT CAMP

IN NEIGHBORHOOD OF 800 NODAWAY COUNTY PEOPLE ATTEND EVENT

MARYVILLE HAS 7 FIRSTS

Local Patrol Troop Under Command of Paul Miller, Winner in Feature Contest; Camp a Success.

In the neighborhood of 800 people from throughout Nodaway County were at the Boy Scout camp yesterday afternoon to witness the final contest of the Scouts prior to breaking camp this morning.

The contest, under the direction of Commandant M. A. Peery was a demonstration of the things that the lads have learned in Scouteraft, and the week of training which they have had at the camp made the competition keen in the various events on the program.

To the Maryville troop went the lion's share of the honors, the local boys winning a total of seven firsts.

Beaver patrol of Maryville, in command of Paul Miller, won the first prize of $20 over a field of three other patrol companies. The event was one of the features of the contest, being a demonstration of the team work of each troop.

The fire building contests attracted much attention among the large crowd of spectators, and some unique examples were given by the boys in these events. In the tenderfoot class in which the boys were allowed only two matches with which to start a fire, Holt of Maryville was first, with Andrews of Hopkins, second. In the contest for building fire without the use of matches, Crowford of Ravenwood, irst and T. Godsey, of Maryville, second.

In addition to the scouteraft events, a large number of swimming and other athletic contests helped to make the affair an interesting one to the spectators.

Following the contest last night the boys began preparation for breaking camp this morning. The troop from Burlington Junction, through permission from the Commandant returned to their homes last night, while the remainder of the lads left via automobile this morning.

According to officials at the camp, the outing has been one of the most successful that has ever been held by the organization.

COMETS LOSE SECOND GAME OF SEASON TO ST. JOE, 12-1

Outclassed by Downstate Club, Local Boys Put up Game Fight; Home Run by Tobin Saves Shut-out

The Maryville Comets went down to defeat before the St. Joseph Stockyards team the second time this season yesterday afternoon by a score of 12 to 1 at the Fair grounds park.

A good sized crowd was on hand to witness the contest and although the home boys were outclassed by the Stockyards nine they put up a game fight and by intermittent flashes of speed kept the score from mounting to a much higher figure.

In the opening half of the first inning, St. Joseph managed to garner three hits in a row off Black's delivery, which developed into three runs. With this lead the St. Joe players took the initiative side of the contest and proceeded to work the hit and run to advantage throughout the rest of the game.

In the fifth inning Tobin saved his club from a shut-out when he poled out a home run to center field. The ball went over the fielder's head and became lost in the tall grass. The grass proved a disadvantage to both teams, the Stockmen getting two home runs off Black via the lost ball route.

In the seventh inning, Bert Monk of Burlington Junction, went to the mound for Maryville. He pitched fair ball for two innings, but in the final frame a series of hits and an epidemic of bobles by the Comets allowed 5 runs to cross the plate.

Shanre, former Western Leaguer, on the mound for St. Joe, pitched an air tight game of ball and was backed up by excellent fielding by his team mates.

One of the marring features of the game yesterday was the lack of a capable umpire. The umps who was scheduled to officiate, failed to show up and one of the fans was pressed into service.

Manager Black announced today that an experienced umpire has been employed to hold the indicator at the remaining games on the home lot.

The line-up:

Comets—Phillips, 1b H. Buhler, 2b; C. Black, lf; Monk, cf; H. Black, p; D. Collins, rf; Conley, ss; P. Buhler, 3b. Tobin, c.

Stockyards—Owens, cf; Palfreyman, 2b; Tracy, 1b; Speaker, rf; Scott, 3b; Lauder, lf; Poolman, ss; Cox, c; Shaner, p.

BARNARD PLANNING FOR QUARTER OF CENTURY PICNIC

Rev. Snodgrass and Judge Dawson of This City on Program Burris Jenkins to Deliver Address.

Barnard's quarter of century picnic August 7, 8 and 9, bids fair to be by far the best and biggest ever seen in the history of the town. More money has been donated and more interest has been shown so far than in the knowledge of the older men who have had to do with the picnic in years past.

An exceedingly fine list of speakers has been secured. On Thursday Rev. Snodgrass of Maryville will make an address and has the reputation for being a popular out of doors speaker. On Friday Dr. Burris Jenkins will make an address on that most vital subject "The League of Nations." Dr. Jenkins is peculiarly fitted to explain the league, having been a war correspondent and having studied the problems attending the war throughout the several years of fighting. Judge Dawson of Maryville will also be here Friday and make a short talk.

On Saturday L. C. Gabbert, General "Y," will be the principal speaker, Gabbert is a lawyer of no little ability as an orator and his personal experiences on the front at a Y man will make an exceedingly interesting theme for an address. His honorary title as General "Y" was earned by his care for the boys over there and is deserved, since it was given him by the boys themselves.—Barnard Bulletin.

Mrs. Coon Stickerod, Miss Lola Stickerod, Miss Mrytle Greer and Otto Million of Rock Port drove to Maryville yesterday to visit friends. Mrs. Stickerod remained for a visit with Miss Celia Miller.

ASSESSORS TAKE A NEW FARM CENSUS

THIS WORK IN ADDITION TO THEIR REGULAR DUTIES

HAVE EVERYTHING LISTED

The Property to Be Assessed on the Actual Value Basis—A Uniform Assessment Rate in Force.

The township assessors of Nodaway county are now beginning their work of assessing the property, real and personal, in their respective townships over the county. In addition to making assessments the assessors will take a farm census. The farm census is taken under the direction and for the Missouri Co-operative Crop Reporting Service, an organization supported by the Missouri State Board of Agriculture and The United States Department of Agriculture.

The assessment this year will be made on the actual value basis. The uniform rates adopted by the assessors were published in an issue of this paper some days ago.

The assessors ask that all farmers inform themselves as to the acreage of their crops, the number of their stock and other matters so that when the assessor comes he will not have to wait while all this information is gathered.

The farm census will include the following information: The number of registered live stock, the total acreage in the farm, the acres in corn, spring wheat, winter wheat, oats, rye, barley, tobacco, cow peas, soy beans, sorghum for syrup, forage sorghum, clover and timothy, alfalfa, prairie hay, cotton, other kinds of crops, pasture, the number of bearing apple trees, the number of hives of bees, the number of cows (2 years old and over), and the number of poultry (all kinds), and the number of silos.

Farmers who live on a farm and have other land rented and are farming that land must include the same information about the rented land as is asked for the land where their home is.

CHICAGO SCENE OF RACE CLASH

TWO MORE NEGROES SHOT AND SERIOUSLY INJURED

TO POLICE BLACK BELT

Petty Quarrels on Beach Thought to Be Cause of Trouble Casualties Negro and White Man Dead

Chicago, July 28.—Two more negroes were shot and seriously wounded today in a race riot that for fourteen hours made a battle field of the negro district on the south side. As a result, additional police have been thrown about the negro district. Thre casualties of the rioting thus far are one negro dead, one white man reported killed, and a score injured.

Although ill feeling between whites and blacks on the South Side has extended over a period of months, emphasized by bomb explosions, some shooting and numerous fights, today's riots seem to have had their start in petty quarrels at the beach. Although several reasons were assigned, the police were unable to determine what actually started the disorders.

Reports that negroes wandered across the dividing line to the white section of the beach and the whites amused themselves by throwing small stones at some of the negro bathers, particularly on a raft, appeared the most plausible cause. Soon after the fighting started a negro fled pursued by a number of whites.

A policeman rushed out of a house and joined the pursuit. The negro took shelter behind a building and began shooting at the policeman who returned the fire. The negro then surrendered In the fight one negro was probably fatally wounded in the abdomen.

The fighting soon had Twenty-ninth Street packed with whites and blacks, the latter predominating. More fighting occurred and a few more shots were fired as some of the negroes fled and as patrol wagon after patrol wagon appeared on the scene with its loads of bluecoats.

During the fighting, rocks, bricks and other missiles were hurled both at the beach and at various points along Twenty-ninth Street. Along State street, particularly near Thirty-first, the very heart of the black belt and at Thirty-fifth street, white men were frequently attacked and beaten, the police said.

At the beach while missiles were flying the negro on a raft was reported to have been struck with a rock and hurled into the lake. Later the body of a negro was taken from the water.

A white man, swimmer, also was reported hit and drowned. Several hours later only one negro's body had been recovered although search of the lake was continuing.

With the police stations emptied of reserves and scores of others rushed from north and west side stations, Acting Chief of Police Alcock ordered every available policeman on duty to prevent further outbreaks.

GERMAN RED CROSS FLAG AT MISSOURI STATE FAIR

Sedalia, Mo., July 28.—A German Red Cross flag, captured at Drillencourt on the right edge of the Argonne Forest, will fly over the free emergency hospital at the Missouri State Fair in Sedalia, August 9-16. The flag was captured by Doctor Norman A. Schwald, captain, U. S. Medical Corps on September 26, 1918. Dr. Schwald was attached to the 131st infantry of the 33rd Division. At the engagement at Drillencourt, his unit fought against the Prussian Guards.

The flag they captured was flying over a German hospital which they found to be well stocked with medicine and drugs, and particularly with eatables. Chickens, Belgian hares, and pigeons were found, evidently awaiting officers' mess. The quarters were large enough for twenty officers and knives and guns were found with every bed. Doctor Schwald, himself, took down the Red Cross flag, which he later presented to his brother-in-law, E. G. Bylander, secretary of the Missouri State Fair.

If hot weather saps your energy and you can't work well, it is a sign that your system is full of bilious impurities. You will be sick if you do not do something. Take Prickly Ash Bitters, the remedy for men; it cleanses the blood, liver and bowels, restores strength, vim and cheerful spirits. Price $1.25 per bottle.—Maryville Drug Co., Special Agents.—Adv.

Start Bluegrass Pasture This Fall.

"How may a blue grass pasture be started on fertile, tillable land?" This question is often asked of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture Perhaps the best reply will be found in Extension Circular 66, by W. C. Etheridge. He says:

Sow timothy and bluegrass with wheat in the fall, adding clover the following spring. After two years of clover and timothy for hay, the land is pastured and the bluegrass fills the sod as the timothy disappears. The acre rates of seeding should be about 8 to 10 pounds of timothy, 6 pounds of bluegrass, and 6 to 8 pounds of clover, using highgrade seed. If it should be desired to turn unusually clean, fertile land into pasture, a sod could be made somewhat more quickly by omitting the wheat and sowing the grasses and clover without a nurse crop. In this case 10 to 15 pounds of bluegrass seed would be sown to the acre.

On land too dry and poor for bluegrass, but which may produce a fair growth of other grasses, a mixture of 5 pounds of redtop, 10 pounds of orchard grass and 4 pounds of alsike clover is recommended. If a cheaper mixture is wanted the redtop seed may be omitted.

On all types of untillable land the spring seeding of pastures almost invariably gives better results than fall seeding, unless the soil is so weedy that fall seeding is necessary to give the grass an early start in competition with the spring growth of weeds. No preparation of the soil is necessary, other than burning the leaves or other dead plant matter; but after the seed is sown it should by all means be harrowed or brushed into the soil, if the land is clear enough to allow the passage of the implement. It must be understood, however, that a pasture seeded in the spring will yield but little return the first season, unless the soil is very fertile and weather conditions are favorable. If it is necessary to begin grazing by early summer the grass should be seeded with rye or oats, which will furnish considerable pasturage during May or June.

The quicker growing grasses, timothy, rye grass, redtop and orchard grass, are seeded with bluegrass to furnish pasturage while the slow growing blue grass is developing. It is also wise to provide against a possible failure of the bluegrass by including other grasses which might prove themselves better adapted to the soil. Two to five years are required for bluegrass to fill the sod, depending upon the fertility of the land and the persistence of the other grasses in the mixture. Under favorable natural conditions there seems to be no limit to its time endurance. But sometimes without any permanent change in natural conditions, the pasture becomes foul with weeds and brush and is thereby made much less productive.

FEW PUPIL NURSES NOW.

And Opportunity for Young Women Are Greater Than They Ever Have Been.

Columbia, Mo., July 28.—Just at a time when opportunities for trained nurses are greater than they ever ever have been, fewer young women seem to be preparing for that profession. The number of pupil nurses pledged to enter the School for Nurses at the University of Missouri next September is smaller than it has been in years. Conditions are similar in the other large nursing schools of the country; the number of probationers is far below the average.

"It is hard to understand why more girls are not preparing to become trained nurses," said a trained nurse of long experience here recently. "The opportunities for nurses are unusually good in public and social service. A nurse who obtains her training under proper hospital supervision and environment receives a cultural training which will be of great value to her whether she intends to make nursing her life work or not. No education better fits a young woman to earn a livelihood or to enter upon the duties of wifehood than a course in a nurses' training school. No course can be pursued and completed at so little cost. And a graduate nurse receives $35 a week as soon as she has finished her training."

The School for Nurses at the University of Missouri is conducted in connection with Parker Memorial Hospital. Pupil nurses receive their training in the hospital and laboratories of the University. The course covers a period of three years, and familiarizes the pupils with the theory and practice of nursing.

The school is affiliated with the City Hospital Training School for Nurses of St. Louis. This association makes it possible for pupil nurses to pursue such studies as are possible only in the largest hospitals. Each nurse spends three months of her senior year in the St. Louis hospital. Application blanks for entrance to the School for Nurses will be sent on application to the University of Missouri.

MRS. E. F' HARDY GAINS TWENTY-FIVE POUNDS

Texas Farmer Praises Tanlac For Overcoming Wife's Trouble.

"Well, sir, my wife only weighed ninety pounds when she commenced taking Tanlac, and now she tips the scales at one hundred and sixteen, which gives her a gain of twenty-six pounds, and any medicine that will do that kind of work is worth recommending to anybody," said E. F. Hardy, a well known farmer who lives near Terrell, Texas, the other day.

"For three long years," continued Mr. Hardy, "my wife suffered something awful, and although she was under the best treatment all the time, her condition seemed to get worse instead of better. She suffered almost continually with a severe pain in the small of her back which was caused from the awful condition of her kidneys. Very often she would have pains in her sides, too, and was so nervous all the time that she never got a good night's sleep. She got so thin and weak, and so generally run down that she was not able to do any house work at all.

"We had been reading a good deal in the papers about this Tanlac, and I decided to buy one bottle and see if it would make any change in her condition. Well, the first bottle helped her so much that I got another, and it just seemed that the more Tanlac she took, the faster she improved, and now since taking four bottles she is enjoying as good health as she ever did in her life. Her stomach seems to be in perfect condition, and everything she eats agrees with her all right. The pain has left her back and she never has the slightest sign of that kidney trouble. She has a fine appetite, and it is simply wonderful the way she has gained in weight and strength. She does all her housework now, and it doesn't hurt her at all. Yes, sir, Tanlac is all right, and I am more than glad to let others know of the great good it has done my wife."

"Tanlac is sold in Maryville by Koch Pharmacy, in Conception Junction by A. M. Colly, in Pickering by H. M. Lincoln, in Burlington Junction by Carter Pharmacy, in Barnard by Bear Drug Co., in Elmo by King Drug Co., in Clearmont by Dr. W. H. Wiley, in Ravenwood by C. A. Shunk, in Arkoe by Rufus R. SHANTUNG SETTLEMENT OF VITAL CONCERN TO U. S.

Former Presbyterian Missioary Tells of the Situation in China.

St. Louis, July 28.—The vital condition of the United States in the settlement of the Shantung controveracy is indicated by Emma E. Fleming, M. D., of Palo Pinto, Benton County, Mo., pioneer Presbyterian medical missionry to Shantung, in a report made public by the Presbyterian Foreign Missions at Presbyterian Headquarters in New York.

Dr. Fleming is a native of Commerce, Michigan, and a sister of Dr. A. W. Fleming of this city, Palo Pinto was her home when she was appointed by the Presbyterian Board to the post where she served for 21 years.

According to Dr. Fleming's report, America's share in the development of Shantung began soon after Germany's occupation and has continued ever since, until, as she says, "Shantung is the largest Presbyterian mission field," While other bodies are in certain centers associated, noon is so large or wilespread as the Presbyterian church, and the magnitude of our responsibility there sometimes overwhelms us, she says

"The Presbyterian church is responsible for all of South Shantung, sharing that field only with the Catholics," Dr. Fleming continued.

Dr. Fleming says that Shantung is "one of the strategic battle fields of the big, undeveloped republic of China and history is still in the making within her borders. Conservative in spirit and non-combative in habit, whichever way the Pekin breeze blows she voors. Shantung has furnished the beggars of China, the Manchurian emigrants and since 1915 the labor battalions of France

Dr. Fleming became a Presbyterian medical missionary with a base of operations at Ichowfu in 1898, the year following Germany's seisure of Shantung's port of Tsingten. She is still in active service there. She found the country centuries behind America, and she and her fellow-Americans have had a large share in the amazing development of the peninsular.

Her's was the first bicycle ever seen by the natives, and mounted on her machine she was pursued by crowds manifesting fear as well as curiosity and chased by hordes of dogs. Today the bicycle penetrates to the most remote hamlets.

Christianity has gained great headway in Shantung, and with it American prestige and commerce, according to the report. Being the home and burial place of Confucius and the site of the sacred mountain of Tai Shan it was at first a discouraging field. The first schools and religious services were in crowded native mud buildings. American enterprises overcame Chinese conservation, and with the introduction of mail service and railroads educational senters were established, medical and surgical treatment were extended, and churches followed the spread of hospital work. Modern improvements in building and home making were demonstrated with good effect, where formerly two story homes were forbidden. In the large cities more modern modes of transportation have led to the leveling of the streets, but in the rural districts motor cycles still have to follow the wheelbarrow tracks across the field.

Dr. Fleming gives credit to the Government schools which have been developed along with the Presbyterian missionary enterprises. "In spite of their defects," she says "they are one of the biggest improvements in the country. And our own big union educational plant has become established in a splendid location at Tsinanfu, the provincial capital.

"When I came in '98 there were no girls' schools in Shantung outside of mission premises. Now all the perfectural cities have high schools. Grammar schools and primary schools are scattered throughout the province and many of the teachers are Christians. Unfortunately they have not required unbinding of the feet, although the higher schools at Tsinanfu do demand it. While we have our Christian schools of all grades, yet we rejoice in the Government schools, especially as they have the Sabbath recreation day and pupils have the privileges of attending church and Sunday School.

"There are kindergardens in various centers and a training schools in Tsinanfu. We have just started one in Ichowfu, with 40 little tots under a native teacher. Some of these babes walk almost two miles.

"Women's Bible Institutions are in most of the stations. These also have classes for young women who have had no chance and are too old for the primary schools. These women have ambition to read and we hope they may become better wives and home keepers.

"Our fine Wallace Faris Memorial Church is another contrast to the crowded native mud buildings in which we worshiped when I first came. The second medical class of young men began to study medicine in Ichofu in 1902, spending one year here under Dr. Johnson; the next year in Tsinanfu under Dr. Neal; and the following year under another instructor, certainly a decided contrast to our Union Medical School in Tsinanfu which today turns out rela physicians. My first dispensary, which had been opened six years before Dr. Anna Larson, was a low close native building and when it was crowded with the great unwashed man, it was hard to work in safety. What was an opening wedge in many places has become a necessary adjunct, and the hospital in Shantung is a might evangelistic agency.

"The modern high school is quite a contrast to the humble room in 1898 at Ichowfu, where an old gentlement had boys and girls yelling their lessons at the tops of their voices.

"There is a spirit of independence among the Christians and several self supporting union churches have been organized. These may not always be best or wisely managed, but they show the tread of the New Era; China for the Chinese under Chinese leadership.

"Two new stations, Yihsein and Tanghsion, have been opened since 1900, and both have become important centers. Yihsien, with the Industrial school and Tonghsein, with Matser Memorial Bible and Training School, preparing evengelistic and teachers for South Shantung. We can praise the Lord for what has been accomplished and press forward for a new era in China."

TO TEAR DOWN STATE ARMORY AT JEFF CITY

Jefferson City, July 28.—Within thirty days another old landmark will have passed away—the State Armonry. The old stone building which has been the headquarters for the adjutant general's office for fifty-six years, has been sold to the Pope Construction Company for $225.

Besides wreeking the old building and clearing away the debris the Pope Construction Company also has bound itself to remove the old warehouse. When this is done the Capitol Park will be clear.

There were two other bidders besides the Pope Construction Company, but the Capitol Commission, which had the matter in charge, awarded the contract to the firm which could do the work in the least possible time. Failure to remove the building in the time specified will be penalized.
